The Progressive Revolution: Liberal Fascism through the Ages

Vol. I: 2007-08 Writings
Vol. II: 2009 Writings

By Ellis Washington

— William Wagner, former Federal District judge; professor, Thomas M. Cooley Law School

Washington is an erudite scholar. Agree or disagree, this book is worth reading.
— John W. Whitehead, attorney; founder/president of The Rutherford Institute; author, The Freedom Wars

Whether you agree with his views or not, the author's unflinching political incorrectness and incisive erudition is what is needed to resuscitate academic and socio-political debate in the USA and the West. The epithet 'page-turner' is usually reserved to thrillers, but this cornucopial tome deserves it richly.
— Sam Vaknin, editor-in-chief, Global Politician; author, Malignant Self-Love

Washington is a gifted writer, analyst, legal scholar and historian. We’re privileged to publish his work in WND.
— Joseph Farah, editor and chief executive officer, WND.com and WND Books

Washington is a meticulous historian, keen political analyst, and discerning lawyer…. This book is a must-read for anyone who wants to connect the dots between history, politics, and morality. Ellis Washington is the Thomas Sowell of his generation.
— Ann Fishman, legal analyst; founder of Liberty Legal Foundation International

The Progressive Revolution (Vols. I & II) chronicles both the historical significance and political deconstruction that the Progressive Revolution, or the Progressive Age, (circa 1870–present) has continuously perpetrated against society, even to this day. These volumes are a collection of selected essays, articles, and Socratic dialogues from the weekly columns written by the author for WorldNetDaily.com, an independent news website of primarily conservative thought and ideas. This opus is divided into two volumes: Vol. I (2007-08 articles) and Vol. II (2009 articles) that are organized topically according to their subject matter of twelve intellectual disciplines including law, politics, foreign policy, philosophy, aesthetics, the academy, religion, economics, science, culture, society, and history.
